Dear All,

I would like to express my support for the proposed ban of snares. Snares are indiscriminate and cause suffering. I also think the ban should also prohibit the sale, manufacture and possession of snares.

All living things have got the right to live yet, we continue with the idea of human superiority and continue to justify our acts and abuse wildlife, such as in the pursuing of hunting and the concurrent use of snares.

United Kingdom is one of the worst worldwide countries for human induced biodiversity loss.

We really need a big shift in thinking and behaviour because along with climate change issues, we are losing it all.

Best wishes

Michele
