Water Strategy for Wales

Thank you for your letter of 8 April noting the launch of the water strategy for Wales and your request that the recommendations for the Committee Inquiry in to water policy t be considered alongside the development of the final strategy.

In developing the water strategy, the Welsh Government worked closely with a number of organisations across the water industry as well as reviewing a wide range of evidence to develop our policy proposals. The Committee report in to the findings of your enquiry in to water policy was one of the documents that helped to inform the strategy.

The water strategy will be out to consultation until 4 July 2014, at which point we will analyse the responses and aim to publish the final strategy in Autumn 2014.
