Dear Rosemary,

I am writing to draw your attention to a letter I have sent to the Lord Chancellor following a recent visit by the Joint Committee on Human Rights to Edinburgh. During this visit, the Committee's attention was drawn to the need to ensure that the Scottish Parliament and the other devolved institutions, along with their committees and other relevant public bodies, are given a full opportunity to contribute to the Government's forthcoming consultation on its proposal to repeal the Human Rights Act and replace it with a British Bill of Rights.

You will see from my letter to Mr Gove that the JCHR has sought assurances from him that "no part of the consultation period will overlap with the period where purdah applies or the Scottish Parliament will be dissolved". I added that "clearly this will be a matter of importance not only for Scotland but also for Wales and Northern Ireland".

If the National Assembly for Wales or any of its committees wish to submit views on this matter, or on the Government's proposals, to the JCHR, I and my colleagues would be most happy to receive them, before or after the launch of the Government's consultation.

Yours sincerely,

Rt Hon Harriet Harman
Chair of the Joint Committee on Human Rights
