Dear Mick,

I thought it pertinent to outline the approach Welsh Ministers have decided to take in response to the UK Government laying of the State Aid (EU Exit) Regulations in Parliament on 21 January 2019.

The regime established by this SI and the supporting Memorandum of Understanding (MoU) are an important step in ensuring dynamic alignment between the UK and the EU on State aid. Welsh Ministers are pleased that regulations will secure and maintain the confidence of our EU partners, facilitate a dynamic alignment with EU State aid rules, and will enable cross-UK alignment, which in turn will form an important cornerstone of our future relationship with the European Union.

The Welsh Government's position is that State aid is a devolved matter and not a reserved matter under any heading of the Reserved Matters Schedule in the Government of Wales Act 2006. However, the UK Government do not consider it as such (as was noted in the Intergovernmental Agreement) and therefore they have not requested Welsh Ministerial consent). The Welsh Government has requested from the UK Government, an explanation of their legal position but there has been no response.

The Minister for Economy and Transport has written to the Secretary of State for Business, Energy and Industrial Strategy to reiterate our position that it is not acceptable for UK Government Ministers to take unilateral decisions on matters which have a direct effect upon areas of devolved competency. Understanding the importance and time constraints of ensuring that these regulations are laid and in force by the time the UK leaves the European Union, it is vital that the long-term UK State aid regime is one which is developed, altered and owned by the UK Government and Devolved Administrations jointly.

Discussions are ongoing between BEIS and WG officials to consider implementation. Despite this, Welsh Ministers are disappointed that the regulations as they have been laid do not provide for decision making by mutual consent and do not provide for a State aid regime that is truly owned by all four Government's in the UK.

Rydym yn croesawu derbyn gohebiaeth yn Gymraeg. Byddwn yn ateb gohebiaeth a dderbynnir yn Gymraeg yn Gymraeg ac ni fydd gohebu yn Gymraeg yn arwain at oedi.

We welcome receiving correspondence in Welsh. Any correspondence received in Welsh will be answered in Welsh and corresponding in Welsh will not lead to a delay in responding.

It is possible for the Welsh Government to agree with the UK Government that a fully functioning UK wide State aid regime is desirable, and indeed necessary to ensure full and unfettered access to the single market, without agreeing to relinquish all statutory control over the State aid rules going forward to the UK Government. Consequently, Welsh Ministers do not plan to grant unilateral consent for this Statutory Instrument.

Yours sincerely,
