Q: Dylai'r gyfraith gael ei newid i amddiffyn plant o dan 18 rhag cael eu treisio gan riant neu warchodwr fel cosb rhesymol?

Should the law be changed to protect children under 18 from being assaulted by a parent or carer as reasonable punishment?

- because it is wrong
- it's not fair to children to be assaulted
- the law should be change because it is not right to hit a child
- because some of the law is offensive
- it should be changed because if a child does something bad their parent shouldn't smack them they should only tell them off.
- It should be changed because it is very wrong
- if you attack your child you can go to jail
- It should be changed because parents could assault a child as a punishment but could take it too far
- It should be changed because if you attack your child they can phone child line and you will go to jail
- It should be changed because if you attack your child they can phone child line and you will go to jail
- because it should be the same because they should treat 18 year olds
- we should change the law because we want to keep the children protect
- yes because under children don't get hurt by older people
- if kids are getting hurt or assaulted it can effect there life to come
- because it is not nice to be assaulted or hurt and beat up
- it is child abuse
- only if the child has got red marks and bruises
- because it is child abuse
- Children have the right to be protected
- because it will be child abuse
- the law should be changed because it effects the child later on in life
- children shouldn't be assaulted by their parents because they will get hurt
- because it is child abuse
- it is not right for children to be assaulted by anyone not even their parents
- because the law keeps people safe because over 18 child abuse
- the law shouldn't be changed because of child abuse
- because it will be child abuse
- because i think it should children should be safe
- It should be changed because it effects children's health
- the law should be changed because to protect children under 18 to be safe
- yes because the child could be hurt and have marks over the child's body
- children shouldn't be assaulted by their parents or carers
- it is child abuse

- Parents should not hurt or assault a child because they can get injured
- the law should be changed because it is child abuse
- because it is child abuse
- the law shouldn't be changed because of child abuse
- it shall not be changed because no person should be assaulted
- Parents should not hurt or assault a child because they can get injured
- Because it is child abuse and it could be seriously hurt
- Child abuse
- Child abuse
- Child abuse
- So no one can hurt you physically or mentally
- if my mammy hit me i would be scared and sad
- It causes conflict
- Children are smaller, younger and weaker
- It is child abuse
- You should treat people how you want to be treated
- Children are weaker and it's not fair they are allowed to get hurt by an adult, but adults are not allowed to get hurt by adults
- It is very cruel to hit children when their action is not serious
- because it's bad
- Because it can really hurt them.
- Some parents hit too hard
- I think this law should be changed because it could affect the child when he or she are parents and could start beating their child but if this law is not changed there will be an endless cycle
- the law should be changed because it could affect the children as an adult
- it should because children are hurt
- because if there is something really, really bad done by someone it should be against the law
- because children are being hurt
- because the law is good because if it's something really, really bad
